

Help us decide what areas we should be focusing on during 2019/20 by telling us your top 3 priorities

Healthwatch exists to engage with local people on their experience of, and views about, health and social care organisations. Every year we choose between 4 and 6 priority areas to focus on, based on what people tell us about their health and care services. To make sure we concentrate on areas that are important to local people this survey is asking you to help us decide what to focus on for 2019-20.

The survey details a list of 13 different potential areas for engagement along with a little about what each of these mean. We then ask you to select your top 3 priorities.

The survey should take no more than 3 minutes to complete.

Make sure your voice counts by telling us where we should be focusing our attention!
